

PRESS RELEASE

CymSTAR Secures Prestigious United States Air Force Contract for Training Systems Acquisition IV (TSA IV)

Broken Arrow, Oklahoma, Date -- CymSTAR, a leading provider of cutting-edge training systems, has been awarded the $32.5 billion, multiple-award, indefinite-delivery/indefinite-quantity (IDIQ) Training Systems Acquisition IV (TSA IV) contract by the United States Air Force. CymSTAR has been selected as a trusted partner to the U.S. Air Force after a competitive acquisition process, alongside 19 other small businesses.

Under the 10-year TSA IV contract, CymSTAR will deliver a comprehensive range of services, including analysis, design, development, production, installation, integration, testing and sustainment. These Air Force training systems involve complex aircrew, maintenance, and system-specific training systems worldwide. CymSTAR's expertise will be instrumental in ensuring effective warfighter training at operating locations across the globe.

The work will be executed within the contiguous U.S. and internationally, with an estimated completion date of May 31, 2033. CymSTAR's commitment to excellence and its track record of delivering exceptional training solutions played a pivotal role in securing this landmark contract.

In addition to the core deliverables, the contract encompasses vital support in system modernization, sustainment of deployed simulation platforms, and performance-based procurement of training systems. CymSTAR's comprehensive suite of services ensures that the U.S. Air Force can enhance its capabilities, maintain readiness, and meet the evolving training needs of its personnel.

"This contract award is a testament to CymSTAR's unwavering commitment to delivering top-notch training systems to our esteemed clients," said Daniel Marticello, CEO and President at CymSTAR. "We are honored to have been selected by the United States Air Force for this prestigious opportunity. We look forward to leveraging our expertise and advanced technologies to support the Air Force's mission-critical training requirements, ultimately enhancing the effectiveness of our warfighters."

CymSTAR is excited to embark on this transformative journey with the United States Air Force, and the company remains dedicated to delivering excellence in every aspect of its partnership.
